

Household Dangers for Pets:

Items commonly found in your home

These items commonly found in your home can be very dangerous for your cat or dog.

Magnets, including "Bucky Balls"

(intestinal damage when 2 or more swallowed)

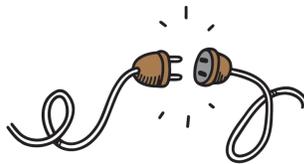

Batteries, including button batteries

(mouth and esophageal burns)

Glues, especially Gorilla Glue®

(digestive obstruction)

Electric and power cords

(mouth burns and house fires)

Sewing thread and yarn

(intestinal obstruction and damage)

Dental floss

(intestinal obstruction and damage)

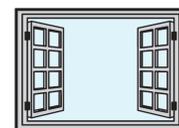

Rubberbands and hair ties

(intestinal obstruction and damage)

Candles

(scents and smoke can irritate lungs and can cause burns or even fires if knocked into/over)

Open windows

(high-rise syndrome)

Pennies (after 1982)

(zinc toxicity with resulting red blood cell destruction, anemia)

Potato chip and other snack bags

(suffocation)